Customized Furnace Solutions

ABOUT Us

For over 30 years, Heat Treat Furnaces has been designing, fabricating and installing custom furnaces for our industrial clients. Our industrial furnaces have an extensive list of capabilities and can be manufactured to suit almost any application.

We are a full-service supplier, meaning we assume responsibility for all mechanical, electrical, structural and control aspects of our furnaces. When you purchase an HTF furnace, you get complete engineering support, evaluation, testing, design, fabrication, installation, start-up and field service with the continued support from our in-house service team.

Let us help you:
